Without a doubt Phuket's best-known restaurant Baan Rim Pa has for many years been the example of the finest in Royal Thai Cuisine.

The location alone is remarkable. Open to the sea breezes on three sides, this magnificent Thai style house turned restaurant, provides some of the best views on the island.

Guests are greeted by friendly staff and shown to tables overlooking the ocean and lights of Patong, to the bar for pre-dinner drinks, or around the grand piano.

Internationally renowned and awarded for its excellence in both taste and presentation, the cuisine at Baan Rim Pa has been described as "too good to eat".

The Cellar, has been awarded with the prestigious Wine Spectator "Award of Excellence" six years in succession.

A visit to Phuket is not complete without the dining experience of Baan Rim Pa.

The newest addition to the Baan Rim Pa Group, "Hung Fat's" brings something completely unique to Phuket. Opened in February 2008 this is already becoming "the" place to be. A team of Chinese chefs were specially flown in to create the Authentic Sichuan menu. This delicious spicy and flavorful cuisine has proved exceptionally popular with both locals and international visitors.

Looking for great music? The band hails direct from NYC playing a mix of Brazilian, Latin, Jazz and Blues and keeps the place swinging until late.

All of this combined with the unusual and wild modern architecture with electric red décor and a modern Chinese influence make this one of Phuket's hot places to dine.

(North Patong)

Reservations: 076344079 076344276

www.damaurizio.com

If you only have one evening for dinner on Phuket, you have to try Da Maurizio's. Even before you try the food, you know you've arrived somewhere special. Few restaurants in the world can match the setting: the outdoor tables practically sit on the stunning rocks at the southern end of Kalim Bay. Subtle lighting makes the most of them, while the background sound is of gentle surf breaking. A truly inspirational new twist to classic Italian with creations such as Rock Lobster Salad: ocean fresh rock lobster tail sautéed with bird chili, garlic and parsley served on a bed of fresh citrus fruits and arugula. Imported Beef Tenderloin Medallions: chargrilled and served with melted leeks sundried tomato, grilled crostini and gorgonzola cognac butter. One can also try the handmade Mint Pappardelle with Lamb Sugo: tender slow braised lamb ragu with wide noodles, made with fresh mint and topped with pecorino cheese. Da Maurizio's exclusive award-winning wine list complements the exceptional menu.
